Public Sector Economics

CALL FOR PAPERS

We seek submissions of original theoretical, empirical, and policy-oriented papers analysing the role and functioning of the public sector at macroeconomic, sectoral and microeconomic levels, in both advanced and emerging market economies. We also welcome submissions on a broader range of topics, including economic growth and development, the role of institutions, and macro-financial stability policies.

ABOUT THE JOURNAL

Public Sector Economics (PSE) is a double-blind peer-reviewed scientific journal published since 1976 by the Institute of Public Finance in Zagreb, Croatia. Recently published papers were authored by staff of academic institutions, international organisations, central banks, finance ministries, regulatory authorities, and other public sector agencies from Europe, the Americas, Asia and the Pacific, as well as Africa and the Middle East. Our reviewers are top scholars worldwide who help significantly improve the quality of published papers.

Articles published in PSE are indexed in SCOPUS, EconLit, RePEC, IBSS, DOAJ, and other databases. The acceptance rate for manuscripts submitted in 2022 was 17%.

There is no submission fee. PSE is co-financed by the Ministry of Science and Education of the Republic of Croatia.

PSE follows the best practice in academic publishing and continuously updates its ethical guidelines. Please follow this link for submissions.
